Wow, you really know how to make a mom feel good! It's uncommon to get positivity. What I can hear from the zoom classes is Tristan's very calm, gentle and caring ways. I particularly feel he is a "master of redirection" which is difficult to do at times but he's amazing at it. Positivity creates a safe environment for disabled people who have "closed down" and are not taking learning risks. We are grateful to be a part of Weist-Barron-Ryan's Rising Star Program as their nurturing, caring positive environment is almost impossible to find!

Where do I begin with how wonderful acting classes have been for my daughter, Lauren? She is more talkative, has more eye contact, is more open to talking to people outside of her family and in making small talk and she loves it! It has been the bright spot in an otherwise rough past few years. They continued to work with these young adults online and it helped them maintain their friendships as well as hone their craft and to have fun! We love all the wonderful people at WBR Lada, Tristan, Quinn and Stefanie, and they are just the BEST! Thank you!
